

New Wall Street Journal Podcast Examines the Rise of Puff Bar

The November 18 episode of the Wall Street Journal's "The Journal" podcast explores how Puff Bar exploited loopholes in Federal rules to become the top selling e-cigarette amongst teens. The discussion looks at how the makers of Puff Bar used both disposable vapes and more recently synthetic nicotine to skirt FDA's rules.

Listen Now

U.S. sees cigarette sales increase for first time in 20 years

A new report from the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) reports that nearly a billion more cigarettes were sold in the U.S. in 2020 compared to 2019. This is the U.S.' first year-to-year increase in cigarette sales in two decades.

Read More

New Text Line Launches to Help Teens Quit E-Cigarettes

The Live Vape Free text line is now live in Wisconsin. Wisconsin teens who want to quit using e-cigarettes can get free help from Live Vape Free by texting VAPEFREE to 873373.

Learn More

WISCONSIN TOBACCO
QuitLine
800-QUIT-NOW

